ABOUT ARTIST:

Francisco Infante-Arana

He has lived in Moscow since 1946. He studied at the Moscow Middle Art School for especially gifted children during 1956-1962, and then spent the next four years in the department of monumental painting at the Stroganov Moscow Higher Industrial Art School.

He is one of the founders of kinetic art in Moscow. Between 1962 and 1968 he was an active member of a group of artists who called themselves the Movement (Dvizhenie) Group in 1964. Under that name, the Russian kinetic artists held numerous shows, which exhibited Infante's geometric abstract panels and objects.

Infante was the first Russian artist to switch completely from traditional art media to photography, yet he does not consider a photograph as a self-standing art object but rather a document of the artifact event.
